Vancouver Cherry Blossom Festival

APR 2 - APR 26, 2015
VARIOUS VENUES

With spring in full bloom, the Vancouver Cherry Blossom Festival returns for its ninth annual edition. Throughout the month, the city commemorates its Japanese tree heritage and the change in seasons with a variety of picnics, fairs, and performances, as well as communal bike rides and walks. The events are scattered all over the city, including David Lam Park, which hosts a picnic and a free kite-making workshop this Saturday (Apr. 4); and VanDusen Botanical Garden, where you'll find the Sakura Days Japan Fair next weekend (Apr. 11-12). And be sure to check out Bike Through the Blossoms on Apr. 11: a four-hour tour of Vancouver's most breathtaking cherry blossom canopies. Find out more here.
