

Daily Hive Community Partnership, Spring, Events

Get your pens ready for the Vancouver Cherry Blossom Festival's Haiku Invitational

DH Vancouver Staff

Mar 29, 2019 4:30 pm 🔥 638

Shutterstock

Get your pens and paper ready, because entry is now open for the Vancouver Cherry Blossom Festival's 2019 Haiku Invitational.

This year's theme is reconciliation and participants are welcomed to interpret that word in their own life and culture.

The top poems in six main categories will receive celebrity readings and be used throughout the 2019 festival, including publication in magazines, newsletters, and websites.

See also

- Raise your voice and join the Vancouver Cherry Blossom Festival's Big Sing
- Vancouver's annual Cherry Blossom Festival announces dates for Spring 2019
- 22 gorgeous shots of cherry blossoms starting to bloom in Vancouver \(PHOTOS\)

The winning poems will also be read at several VCBF events, including the Vancouver Symphony Orchestra's Tea & Trumpets Concert, Cherry Jam Downtown, and the Sakura Days Japan Fair.

All participants are welcome, regardless of age and writing ability. Each individual will be able to submit two entries, both in English.

This April, the VCBF will also be hosting a special Haiku workshop on Sunday, April 28, from 12 to 3 pm.

More information on tips, suggestions, and notes on capitalization and punctuation can be found on their website.

2019 Haiku Invitational

When: Entry is open from now until June 1, 2019

Where: Admissions can be submitted online

Cost: Free of charge

Daily Hive is a proud media sponsor of the 2019 Vancouver Cherry Blossom Festival

Fast just got faster.
Get Internet 300/300
for just $55/mo.*

Learn more

*For 6 months on a 2 year term. Conditions apply.

from across Canada

The Internet is demanding McDonald's April Fool's joke be made in real life

Pedestrian dead after being struck by BMW in East Vancouver

LATEST

These are the most admired companies in Canada

7 things to do in Vancouver today:
Tuesday, April 2

Pedestrian dead after being struck by BMW in East Vancouver